Democrats Protest "Secret" Election to Be Held Monday

Say Public Not Informed of Move to Get Pensions for County Employees

Charging that leaders in the move to obtain pensions for Lake County court house employees have failed to give proper publicity to the referendum to be held Monday, June 1, when sanction of Lake county voters will be asked for the measure, the executive committee of the Lake County Democratic Central committee today issued a statement protesting the "almost secret" referendum on the grounds that "there have been no public meetings and no public statements have been presented to the press." The committee also charges that the election even if successful will be illegal, because the law requires that such referendum be held at the next general or special election after such petition is filed in the office of the county clerk. The petition for the election to be held Monday was filed on April 1, and the "next election" was on April 14, the committee points out.

The statement follows: The Executive Committee of the Lake County Democratic Central Committee protests the attempt of the Lake county court house payrollers to obtain pensions through an almost secret referendum to be held next Monday, June 1, the day of the uncontested Supreme Court election.

Voters Not Informed The ring leaders in this move to obtain pensions for courthouse employees circulated petitions which they filed in the office of the County Clerk on April 1, asking that a referendum be held. However, they have done nothing to inform the taxpayers and voters of their motivations in seeking the pensions. There have been no public meetings held and no public statements have been presented to the press.

Very few people know that a referendum to authorize the proposed tax (continued on page 8)

600 Attend 8th Grade Promotional Exercises

Diplomas Given to 20 Antioch Grads, 24 to Rural Students

A throng of 600 persons attended the Eighth Grade Promotional exercises held last night in the high school gymnasium when 20 Antioch students and 24 rural students who had successfully completed the eighth grade received their certificates of promotion to high school.

Principal D. W. Thompson of the Warren Township High school delivered an impressive address to the graduates. The graduates were heard in one song, the fifth, sixth and seventh grade pupils also sang, and the grade school band rendered several numbers.

Diplomas were presented to the graduates by Ralph E. Clabaugh, principal of the Antioch Grade school.

Many Antioch Stores To Close at Noon On Memorial Day

Whether or not to observe the usual closing during the afternoon of Decoration Day which this year falls on Saturday was being weighed by Antioch merchants today in the light of "convenience and necessity." Saturday being the principal shopping day for week-end visitors in the region, it is presumed that some of the food and supply stores will remain open, others will close at noon, including the chain stores, Antioch Market, dress stores, dry goods, hardware stores. Some may close during the Decoration day program from 1:30 to 4:00 o'clock and open during the evening hours for the convenience of shoppers.

Army Captain to Address Defense Meeting Monday

County Council Co-operates in Program at Antioch High School Gym

An address by Captain John W. Gorby, veteran of the first world war, and now assistant executive secretary of the Illinois Defense Council, motion pictures showing actual bombings and how air raid wardens do their job of protecting the lives of citizens will be highlights of the meeting sponsored by the Antioch Defense Council at the Antioch High school gym Monday night at 7:45 o'clock. All citizens of the community are invited.

Paul King, Lake County Council of Defense Co-ordinator, is co-operating with Group Leader Roman Vos of the local air raid wardens, in the preparation of the program which will be of interest to all citizens. Co-ordinator King will be present to introduce the speaker, who is now working as liaison officer for Lake county.

Other entertainment will be a demonstration by the Antioch Junior Legion drum and bugle corps, and music by a group of students.

The Antioch American Legion post is also co-operating in the promotion of the meeting and it has procured a number of pennants to be given to families who have boys in the U. S. service. Families of men in service are asked to have a representative present at the meeting to receive this token of service from the Legion.

Illinois Has Big Output of Honey To Replace Sugar

Urbana, Ill., May 27.—Six to ten million pounds of honey produced yearly in Illinois is good news to housewives who are becoming accustomed to sugar rationing.

Usefulness of honey as a sweetening agent is told by home economics foods authorities from the University of Illinois College of Agriculture in Circular 528, "How to Use Honey," just off the press.

Forty-two honey recipes recommended by the home economists include breads, cookies, cakes and other baked products as well as salads, candies, meats and vegetables. Home economists selected the recipes on the basis of general popularity as foods which most people would enjoy.

Actual replacement of sugar with honey in any type of cooking or baking is relatively simple, it was pointed out. Experimental work has shown that if a fairly large amount of honey is required in the recipe, the proportion of baking temperatures for honey-made foods must be lowered. Exact rules and standards preferred by the home economists are outlined in their new publication.

To those using honey in large quantity for the first time, the foods authorities point out that honey best retains its flavor and aroma if stored in a tightly covered container, in a dry room at about 70 degrees Fahrenheit. This is one food that does not belong in the refrigerator, since the cool temperature will start crystallization.

The "How to Use Honey" circular is available free of charge from the extension service in agriculture and home economics of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Old Influence Arizona mission architecture, as demonstrated by Mission San Xavier del Bac, near Tucson, is a combination of Byzantine, Moorish, Spanish and Mexican Aztec influences.

Navy Lieutenant Will Be Speaker at Memorial Service

Many Antioch Groups Will Have Part in Program Here Saturday

The Antioch American Legion Post today announced the engagement of Lieutenant William J. Stout, USNR, of Great Lakes Naval Training Station as Memorial Day speaker at the services to be held here Saturday afternoon, starting at 1:30 o'clock.

In observance of the day which has more than usual significance this year many community groups will have a part in the program which will pay tribute to the soldier and sailor dead of the present war as well as those who gave their lives in other conflicts in the nation's history. The program was arranged under the direction of the Antioch Legion post, with Otto S. Klass chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Lieutenant Stout has been highly recommended as a speaker by his superior officers at Great Lakes. His rise to prominence has been rapid since his graduation from Indiana State university in 1937. He first was employed by a department store in Indianapolis, where after several months training he was made assistant to the personnel director, and in 1939 he became assistant to the president of the firm, which position he held until his enlistment in the navy last March. During his four years in Indianapolis he was a member of several organizations, including the Junior chamber of commerce and Personnel association, and the Indiana Merit System association which secured the first favorable legislation in Indiana in the 1941 session of the state legislature.

The Legion committee announced the following program for Memorial Day services:

1:30 P. M.—All organizations participating gather at the Antioch High School.

2:00 P. M.—Formation of line of march north on Main street to the village park.

2:30 P. M.—Opening Remarks, Americanism Officer—Otto S. Klass Invocation—The Rev. W. C. Henslee Musical Selection

Registrations are being accepted this week at the Chapter Office, 230 North Genesee street, Waukegan, between one and five p. m.

The course which will be given, according to Mrs. Kaye, is one which has been prepared in collaboration with the Office of Civilian Defense. It requires 80 hours of training, including lectures and actual hospital practice. The latter will be given at St. Therese hospital under the supervision of Sister Celine, Superintendent of Nurses, and at the Victory Memorial hospital, under the supervision of Miss Wilson, superintendent.

To be eligible, persons must be in good health and must have completed the standard Red Cross course in home nursing or the standard first aid course or both. After the nurses' aid course is completed, the graduate must pledge at least 150 hours of service during the first year. Graduates will be called upon to assist in hospitals when the occasion arises, in clinics and in the home. In addition, each graduate will be assigned to a medical unit of the O. C. D. for emergency service with a physician, first aid worker and other civilian defense volunteers in case of bombings, fires, tornado or other major disasters.

Wagner Is Elected President of Lions

Young Business Man Elected Monday Night; Murrie Secy.-Treasurer

George Wagner, general manager of the Antioch Milling company, was elected president of the Antioch Lions club Monday night at a meeting held at Pregener's resort at Grass Lake.

Wagner served for one term as club secretary in 1939.

Other officers elected were: L. E. Murrie, secretary-treasurer; 1st vice president, Frank Powles; 2nd vice president, Elmer Rentner; 3rd vice president, W. I. Scott; tallowster, Irving Carey; Lion tamer, Art Trieger; directors, Dr. G. W. Jensen and R. Mann. All were elected by unanimous vote, the membership accepting the recommendations of the nominating committee. The newly elected officers will be installed June 8 at a meeting to be held at the Roundup.

The officers and directors elected Monday, together with the hold-over directors—Ed F. Vos and George Bacon—constitute the executive board which directs the policies of the club and makes recommendations regarding its activities.

Antioch Girl Finishes Defense Training Course

Miss Patricia Mack, Lake Marie, Antioch, Illinois, will be graduated from Illinois Institute of Technology's defense training course in engineering drafting, Friday (May 29) ready to enter war work in the Chicago area.

She is one of 33 women who will finish the course, the first of its kind in the nation. Twenty-eight others will be graduated from a course in industrial chemistry and 26 in ordinance inspection.

Patricia Mack and the other women in the program, which was the first and is still the only training setup in the nation preparing women for specific war jobs, began their study in March.

Miss Mack's training was tuition-free, expenses being paid by the U. S. government. Other women of the Antioch area will have the same opportunity to obtain free training for war work in a new program being organized at Illinois Tech.

The demand for women trained in technical work for war-time industry far exceeds the present supply. An average of four jobs are now waiting for every one of the women to be graduated next week, Illinois Tech defense training officials say.

To meet that demand, Illinois Tech is expanding its summer training program to include 200 women in ordinance inspection, the field with the largest needs. The first section is already at work and others will begin to study as soon as they are organized.

Antioch area women who wish to apply for this free training should go to Illinois Tech's Lewis campus, 1951 West Madison, for a personal interview, defense training officials said. Miss Mack, with the rest of her group, will probably enter defense work either in the Chicago Ordnance District or in private industry engaged in war production.

New York Original 'Dixie' The term "Dixie" originally was applied to New York city, in the days when slavery existed there and when Josiah Dixie, a wealthy land owner on Manhattan island owned a large number of apparently happy and contented slaves.

County Forces Uniting for Production and Citizenship

Lake county prepared for all-out support of wartime programs in production and citizenship today following the launching of an expanded wartime educational program by the Extension Service of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

One chief purpose of the program is to reach every man, woman and child in the rural areas of Lake county directly and systematically with the latest facts on wartime programs for production and citizenship.

This will be done through a leader and a co-leader who will be appointed for each local school district in the county.

Of immediate urgency is a united effort by rural people in behalf of home food production and preservation, harvesting and storing the record soybean crop, fire prevention and safety, and control of the costs of living and of fighting.

Backing up the leaders and co-leaders who are appointed for each local school district will be an organization stemming from a county committee. Farm Adviser Ray T. Nicholas and Home Adviser Helen Volk, with the advice of President Harry N. Matthews of the farm bureau, and President Mrs. Earl Barron of the home bureau, will establish this committee. It will be composed of eight to fifteen farm men and women, one representative of each U. S. D. A. agency active in the county, one representative of vocational agriculture teachers and one representative of vocational home economics teachers in the county.

Farm men and women will at all times constitute a majority on the committee, and Farm Adviser Ray T. Nicholas will be chairman, with Home Adviser Helen Volk serving as co-chairman.

In each township there will be appointed a chairman and co-chairman, one representing agricultural production and one representing home-making. Then, as previously explained, in each school district there will be a leader and a co-leader, one representing agricultural production and one representing home-making. These school district leaders will take the final step in getting wartime educational material down to the last farmer and his family.

Professor C. S. Rhode and Mrs. Elsie Butler have been appointed supervisors from the staff of the Extension Service, U. O. I. College of Agriculture to assist the county committee, Farm Adviser Nicholas, Home Adviser Mrs. Volk, the township chairman and the school district leaders in carrying out the program.

Names of the county committee members, township chairmen and school district leaders are to be announced later.

GIRLS' 4-H CLUB ORGANIZED HERE

Organization of a Girls' 4-H club was effected Friday night at a meeting held at the home of Miss Lillian E. Musch on Lake street. Present to assist with the organization was Mrs. Helen Volk, Lake county home adviser.

Miss Musch, who is secretary at the Antioch Grade school, was chosen club leader, and the following officers were elected: President, June Kutli; vice president, Ruby Drom; secretary-treasurer, Doris Burdick; reporter, Alice Kacer; recreation chairman, Margaret Anderson.

After the meeting the group enjoyed the showing of a 4-H club movie at the Antioch theatre.

Diplomas Given To Fifty-Seven at Commencement

Event Climaxes Busy Week for High School Seniors

"There's nothing in a name except what the owner of the name makes out of it," and there is no real aristocracy in America except the aristocracy of achievement; so maintained Principal Raymond Moore of the Lake Forest high school in his address at the 27th annual commencement exercises of the Antioch Township High school held in the gymnasium Tuesday night.

Principal Moore's address was directed mainly to the 57 graduates who are starting life with the fundamentals of learning, but his remarks were good for all to hear. The speaker developed his subject, "What's in a Name," by making use of vivid illustrations. One referred to a man of great wealth who died a few years ago and left a fund of $50,000 with which to erect a monument. Spectators wondered at the beauty of the memorial but none could say what claim the man had to fame, except that he possessed a great amount of wealth. The greatest monument is the monument built by living a useful life, the speaker said.

The high school chorus and Edward Ruschewski, a senior, were heard in vocal numbers and the diplomas were presented by Arthur Maplethorpe, president of the board of education.

The gymnasium was filled to capacity.

Those receiving diplomas were:

Dorothy Aronson, Lila Cobb, Vivien Cosgrove, Margaret DeBates, Elsie DeBoer, Patricia Decker, Alice Denman, Mildred Dow, Janet Ellis, Ruth Gussarson, Gertrude Horton, Gene Hutchison, Sybil Johnson, Alice Leng, Joan Miller, Charlotte Moran, Dorothy Nedbal, Jennie Nevelier, Catherine Quigley, Ruth Schonscheck, Lucille Sherman, Virginia Sorenson, Vernetta Tieman, Doris Wagner, Joyce Waters, Shirley Wells, Martha Winch.

Baccalaureate Sunday

Preceding the commencement two well attended services were held Sunday—the Ivy Planting ceremony at 7:30 p. m. held on the school campus, where eight honor students took part in the planting of the traditional ivy, a practice observed each year by the seniors.

Miss Jennie Nevelier, a senior, who had been chosen by her classmates and the high school faculty as the senior to receive the Girl Pilgrimage Certificate and pin, graciously accepted the token of good citizenship from Miss Elizabeth Webb, chairman of the Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizenship Pilgrimage committee. Qualities of dependability, leadership and patriotism were considered in making the award.

The speaker at the Baccalaureate service held at 8:30 in the auditorium was the Rev. Walter McArthur of the Lake Villa Community Methodist church. "The purpose of education," the pastor said, "is to discover talent and learn how to make use of it for the advancement of mankind." The possessor of talent who allows it to remain idle is of no more use to humanity than one who has no talent, the speaker said. Lincoln labored diligently, without any of the modern facilities we enjoy today, but he discovered his talent for the leadership that was destined to lead America through its darkest hour in history.

The Baccalaureate sermon was Rev. MacArthur's third address of the day Sunday.

ENERGY RESOURCES

This war has brought to Americans a new and better realization of what the "energy industries" mean to the free world—and to the war which is being fought to save and maintain that freedom.

Oil is one of these industries. This nation possesses some 60 per cent of all the earth's oil. Equally important, it has drilling and refining facilities which lead the rest of the world by a wide margin. American oil companies are producing ever-increasing quantities of every kind of oil, from the fuel oils which drive ships, to the highest test gasolines which feed airplanes. American oil goes to Russia, to Australia and to England. American oil is the backbone of the United Nations' war effort.

Coal is another "energy industry." Out of the mines of this country comes the coal which is vital to war production and civilian production alike. Demand grows—and the industry meets it and prepares for still greater demand. Coal, like oil, fights for the democratic cause.

Electric power is still another industry in the "energy resource" group. Private utilities supply about 90 per cent of all the electric power commercially generated in this country. Private enterprise harnessed waterpower and made it work to serve man. The utilities represent an investment of close to $15,000,000,000—and all their facilities are at the service of the nation.

These are the kind of industries which give this country a potential military strength unequalled on earth. These are the kind of industries which are helping to provide United Nations' troops with the weapons, the munitions and the supplies that will win the eventual victory.

"ORGANIZED FARMING"

The marketing cooperatives represent "organized farming" at its best. These organizations aren't in business to shorten working hours and "slow down" production. Instead, they exist to show farmers how they may produce more. They help stabilize markets. And when it comes to "wages," they ask only that the farmer receive a price which will pay his costs and leave a little profit for his work.

Today the farmer must face some of the toughest problems in history—higher taxes, higher costs of all kinds, a fast-dwindling labor supply, scarcities of machinery and other commodities. The marketing co-ops are helping him make the difficult and necessary adjustments.

WILMOT

The Wilmot Grade school picnic was proclaimed a huge success, with over 100 children and their parents gathered at Fox River park on Friday. The teachers, Misses Rhodes and Larson, took charge of the games for both young and old and the prizes, in most instances, were war savings stamps. Mrs. W. Wertz, president of the Mother's club and general chairman of the picnic, very ably managed with the assistance of an appointed committee. Gallons of ice cream were furnished by the Mother's club and the tables were filled with delicious food for everyone. A special invitation was extended to Principal M. M. Schurr and the High school faculty.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ober and infant son of Woodstock spent Wednesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sarbacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry McDougall spent the day Wednesday at Madison.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service held its regular meeting at the home of Miss Anna Kronke. A large attendance was reported and at the conclusion of the meeting, Miss Kronke served lunch to approximately 45 members and invited guests.

George West, Kenosha, called on his sister and family, the Herbert Sarbacher, Saturday.

The Past Mothers' and Patrons' club of the Wilmot O. E. S. met at the home of Mrs. Chester Hockney at Silver Lake on Tuesday afternoon. During the business session it was voted to present the Wilmot O. E. S. chapter with a clock. It was agreed to hold their June meeting at Fox River Park and serve pot-luck lunch in true picnic fashion. After the meeting was brought to a close, a delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

Miss Avis Voss of Elgin spent from Saturday evening until Monday evening with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Voss. On Monday Mrs. Voss and daughters, Virginia and Avis, and granddaughter, Nancy Marzahn of Fox River, spent the day in Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. Blackman and Miss Natalie Stone spent Sunday afternoon at the Kenosha hospital visiting Mrs. Blackman's mother, Mrs. Mary Madison, who is seriously ill.

Miss Ruth Thomas, Milwaukee, spent Friday evening at Wilmot and attended the Prom.

Ray Wertz escaped with slight injuries Saturday evening when his gravel truck hit a huge boulder and out of control, struck a large tree. The front of the truck was badly damaged. The accident occurred at the Wilmot sign on the south road.

Mrs. Paul Voss and daughter, Virginia, and son, Darwin, attended the commencement exercises at Kenosha Saturday. Darwin was one of the graduates.

The Wilmot Fire department answered a call on Sunday morning to the dumping grounds near Buckley's gravel pit, to extinguish a fire in Arthur Panknin's car. Cause of the fire was undetermined, but the car was badly damaged.

The Maguire family of Chicago spent the week-end at their Wilmot home.

Fred Fisher and Clinton Voss, who are employed at Merrimac, spent the week-end with their families at the Paul Voss home.

A SORRY RECORD

The appropriations bills roll swiftly through Congress. It is clear that before this war is done we may have a national debt of $200,000,000,000 or more. Rightly, no citizen complains when the money is to be used for real and necessary military purposes. We are determined that every American fighting man must be the best and most abundantly equipped fighting man on earth.

But what has happened to the promises of drastic retrenchment in non-defense expenditures? A glance at the record tells the sorry story. It is a statistical fact that not a single significant cut has been made in any branch of the government. The non-defense bureaus grow bigger and fatter. Waste and duplication of effort continue "as usual." Extravagance is still in the saddle. And the people pay.

It is a truism that all seekers of office promise "economy"—and that, once elected, their pledges are immediately forgotten. It is up to the citizens of America—the people who pay—to refresh those short memories. There is no excuse whatsoever for the spending of a single tax dollar for any activity which could be abandoned or deferred. That is true of local governments and the national government alike.

The very solvency of this country depends upon the greatest possible retrenchment in all government functions which are not directly related to the prosecution of the war. That is the responsibility of our public servants. They cannot evade it.

BONDS FIGHT THE AXIS

The American people will decide whether or not the nation will be forced to adopt and accept compulsory purchasing of War Bonds. According to Secretary Morgenthau, it will be necessary for us to buy $1,000,000,000 worth of these bonds each month. If we do that voluntarily there will be no need for compulsion. If we don't compulsion will be inevitable.

Some may wonder why the government can't pay for the war simply by selling more bonds to banks. Secretary Morgenthau recently pointed out that excessively heavy bank purchases are inflationary, "because when commercial banks buy Government Bonds they do not pay for them with actual cash taken from their vaults, but by placing on their books newly created deposits to the credit of the government. When the government draws upon these deposits to pay for the goods and services it buys, the purchasing power of those to whom these payments are made is increased without any decrease in the purchasing power of those from whom the money is borrowed."

Increased purchasing power combined with a decreased supply of goods is the certain road to disastrous inflation. The government wants you to buy bonds with every nickel you can spare—and it wants you to deny yourselves luxuries so you can buy more. No man can make a better purchase than the securities which buy weapons to fight the Axis.

SALEM

Mrs. Millie Darby and Mr. and Mrs. John Hazelman, Kenosha, spent Sunday visiting friends at Wilmot.

Guests on Saturday at the John Blackman home were: Mrs. Arthur Larson and daughter, Lorraine, and Robert White of Antioch, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Funk of Kenosha, Mrs. Charles Brennan of Richmond, spent the day Monday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Blackman.

Miss Anna Mae Shottliff, Kenosha, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Shottliff.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Clyde Wilson of Richmond were Sunday evening callers of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Voss.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Dobyns of McHenry were Saturday evening callers at the Carey home.

The foundation for the Wilmot fire house has been completed and work on the superstructure started Monday morning. Mike Seitz is the general contractor for the building.

Several donations toward the building were received but they still fall short of the total amount needed for complete payment and any donations will be appreciated by the department. These will be accepted by M. Schurr, president, or Herbert Sarbacher, fire chief of the department.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Rauen and daughter, Betty Jane and sons, Bobby and Larry, and Patricia Madden of Chicago and Viola Olson of Zion, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Long and daughter, Mary Jane, were supper guests of Fred Madden on Sunday.

Several sheep and lambs were killed, or crippled by dogs on the Carl Gauer farm on Saturday evening while the family was away. They also destroyed sheep at the farm on another occasion.

The Wilmot Fire department held their regular meeting on Wednesday evening, instead of Monday, as previously stated.

Mrs. J. Sarbacher returned to the Herbert Sarbacher home on Sunday after spending three weeks at Woodstock with her daughter and family, the A. Burkarts.

Mr. and Mrs. August Burkart, Woodstock, Viola Olson of Zion, and Win Madden, called at the H. Sarbacher home Sunday.

There will be a Spring Festival, card party and dance given by the Camp Lake Oaks Improvement association, Saturday evening, May 30, at 8:00 P. M. There will be plenty of prizes.

Half of the money taken in will be donated to the Wilmot Fire department to apply to their building fund. The public is invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shales of Woodstock called on Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ganzzlin Sunday.

The Wilmot prom, held on Friday evening at the gymnasium, was acclaimed a huge success and much credit should be given Miss Ruth Boselman, for the beautiful way in which her decorations and festa color scheme represented the South American countries. Huge brightly colored sombreros adorned the walls and hid indirect lighting, and many gaily colored fringed shawls were draped about.

Large flags, representing every country in South America as well as our own flag most prominently displayed, showed great thought in carrying out her idea. Brilliant jars and cactus on the walls completed the effect.

The Silver Derbies played for the evening's dancing.

ANTIOCH GARAGE

FORD SALES AND SERVICE

Located at 939 Main street, Antioch, phone 11, your patriotic proprietors, W. A. Rosing & Son.

Service on all makes of cars. Your satisfaction is their pride, as they feel their obligation ends only when you are pleased. This concern is a real Antioch booster.

Probably the most remarkable thing about the Ford is the fact that in 1893 when the first Ford burred over the sill of its little brick shed on Bagley avenue in Detroit out into the springtime sunlight its maker never once doubted its ultimate success.

It frightened horses, blocked traffic and Mr. Ford found it necessary to chain it up to prevent people from running away with it.

Since that time over 39,000,000 of them have gone into operation, many of which are still giving excellent service to the owner. Mr. Ford has never disappointed the public, and his 1942, the V8 represents the crowning achievement for the automobile industry, combining beauty, utility, economy, comfort and resale value in one achievement at an unheard of price for an Eight capable of over 90 miles an hour.

TEETH . . . AND YOUR HEALTH

By Durward B. McLohon

Our teeth in many instances are the fundamental causes of both good and bad health. Well cared for teeth promise better health in the entire system. Teeth that are decayed and infected with pus are a menace to health and always affect some other organ of the human body, interfering with its correct functioning and presage a run-down condition or more specifically a serious ailment, resulting in many cases, fatality.

One hundred years ago the neglect of dentistry by the medical profession led to its development as a special study, and while the relationship was recognized by some, only in comparatively recent years have both the medical and dental profession definitely realized the relationship between the condition of one's teeth and health in general.

Sir William Osler, one of Europe's greatest authorities on internal medicine, has said: "There is not one single thing in preventative medicine that equals mouth hygiene and preservation of the teeth." Dr. Chas. H. Mayo, of Rochester, Minn., stated: "It is quite as important that dentists have a general knowledge of disease as it is that physicians have it, and while it is true that the dentist should refer many patients to the physician for medical examination, it is also true that the physician should refer many more to the dentists for the good of the patient."

He further stated: "Neuritis, arthritis, anemia, asthma, ulceration of the stomach, gastritis, colitis, high blood pressure, colds, bronchial infections result from infected teeth and three-fourths of the abdominal cases operated on at the Mayo clinic are the consequential result of infection arising from the teeth."

These and countless other similar statements by eminent authorities on disease, strongly substantiated the fact that many of our physical ills are often caused by ulcerated teeth and diseases of surrounding tissues. Dentists have consequently acquired a general knowledge of the physical ailments, and in doing so have made dental practice a most important specialty in preventive medicine.

Dr. L. V. Madden, whose offices are located at 948 Main street, Antioch, is one of our very prominent professional men who is enjoying a large and well merited clientele from the city and surrounding territory.

MOUNT HATCHERIES

The Mount Hatchery, under the able supervision of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Mount, of Antioch and Elkhorn, Wis., features a most complete service in poultry and poultry equipment. The Antioch branch of the hatchery is located at 601 North Main street, phone Antioch 293.

Thousands of chicks from high-producing and selected breeds are furnished annually to raisers in this community by Mr. and Mrs. Mount. They conduct one of the largest and most modern hatcheries in this locality and of course, have had a wide experience in this important business. They likewise are considered authorities on all matters pertaining to baby chicks as well as all kinds of poultry.

Once a patron of this hatchery, you will continue to go back season after season, because raisers learn early that Mount Hatchery chicks are sturdy and full of pep, due to the fact that they interest themselves only in strong breeds which will be best producers and open the best market sources.

One of the recognized principles of good farming lies in the raising of all kinds of poultry and this fact is receiving greater attention from the farmer today than ever before. That there is a splendid market for good poultry today goes without saying, and in many a suburban or farm household, the income from poultry alone is a very substantial one. Anyone with a piece of ground and the desire to create an income without leaving home can, with a small investment, go into the poultry business and find a ready market for production, and there is no place that is more dependable for the right stock for getting a start than going direct to Mount Hatchery or drop them a card for prices and details.

GEO. B. BARTLETT, Mayor

Mayor of the City of Antioch

There is no standing still in business today. The buying public demands newer and better methods and products. The individual who will not advance remains shadowed in the background and other and more enterprising persons advance.

The office of Mayor is one of the most important positions in the city. He must be the most efficient cog in the machine that makes our country and city progress.

He has a job needing a four-square man with a thorough knowledge of county and city methods and efficiencies. He must protect the little taxpayers as well as the large corporations.

George B. Bartlett, our present mayor, is a man of this type.

His appearance suggests a wide-awake, progressive individual who makes the community interests his interests.

The very fact that this position was entrusted to him means that his past qualifications have been well known and recognized.

Mr. Bartlett has been responsible for much of the smoothness and efficiency of our city's organizations in the past. Let's all help him to be more successful.

REGAL CHINA, INC.

Regal China, Inc., a community booster and a great asset to the region is under the able management of Mr. R. F. Gruidl and Mr. John Lipfert, the proprietors.

Any business to be permanently successful must be founded upon principle, honesty, fair dealings and full value for the price asked. From this there can be no deviation regardless of economic or any other conditions.

In such a period as the one in which we are now confronted, merchants and industrialists are confronted with many problems. In seeking the solution there has often been the strong provocation to resort to expedients that in normal times would never be considered.

Every successful business in our great nation started from a small beginning and was built on an ideal. That ideal was to keep the good will of the public and its employees regardless of conditions.

Regal China, Inc. not only provides employment for a number of our people and brings many thousands of dollars into our community annually, but at the same time it pays its employees well and furnishes means whereby they can live and raise their families under the most ideal conditions.

To maintain this company means the continued prosperity of this great region, therefore, in looking forward to a still greater community, each and every one of us should at all times be cognizant of the higher ideals upon which this company was founded and upon which it is being operated.

SCOTT'S DAIRY

An old proverb is "A Healthy Body Breeds a Healthy Mind." Scott's Dairy, providing wholesome, vitamin-rich, milk and dairy products high in nutritive content, probably contributes more than any other institution in the community to the health and happiness of the baby and growing child.

Perhaps no part of agriculture has made forward strides in the past few years as dairying. When we speak of dairying today we must first consider the fact that dairying is one of the greatest assets to the community—it is one of the Government's greatest sources of income—it is national in scope, and is practically the only division of agriculture which provides the producer—the man who milks the cow—a year 'round income.

Scott's Dairy was organized for the purpose of furnishing the best dairy products possible and has succeeded admirably and there is no question but

ANTIOCH NURSERY

Roy L. Pierce, Proprietor
Located at the end of Depot street. Their slogan is they are "Outdoors Beauticians."

There is no one who has aided more in the beautification of estates in this section of the country than Roy L. Pierce.

Some of Pierce's developments are truly wonders and something the late Luther Burbank would have marveled at.

They are practical landscape architects, being able to give valuable suggestions as to the kind and number of trees, plants, shrubs so that there will be a continuous bloom all the year round. Their nursery is well planted at all times and no matter whether it is for the winter season in the open country or for the spring, summer or fall they will arrange a selection that will give you a place that is a wonder of nature.

Far seeing people have Mr. Pierce make regular visits to their places, look over the trees most carefully, trim off superfluous branches, trim them or make any repairs necessary. A regular inspection will catch small defects before they grow large, and remedy at small cost what would be very expensive to fix later on. The importance of tree inspection cannot be too strongly urged. Trees kept in good order will greatly enhance the sales value of the place, and they will always be a joy to the owner. A consultation with a reputable man such as Roy L. Pierce should be the preoccupation of every home owner, if not already done.

In making this review of the progress of the day due mention should not be omitted of the excellent work performed by the beautification of lawns, estates and boulevards in this part of the state.

KONIG'S BAKERY & RESTAURANT

J. Konig, Proprietor
Located in Antioch, at 925 Main street, featuring fine home cooked food.

Wedding and anniversary cakes are a specialty at this well patronized bakery.

Housewives, attention! When the founder of this bakery and restaurant, Mr. Konig, started this establishment, it was with the idea of producing bakery goods so superior that the housewife would always depend on them for quality baked goods.

That this motive ideal was well founded is proven by the success they have attained.

In the production of their famous bread and bakery goods, nothing but the highest quality ingredients are used. These fine ingredients are blended and baked by a Master Baker—a person with many years' experience, and the resulting products produced at this bakery speak for themselves; being the finest obtainable in this region.

An old saying is: "Good Food Is Good Health." The writer will add, "the proof of the pudding is in the eating."

Everything in the shop of this well known local retail bakery is the last word in cleanliness and sanitation. All the latest type of modern equipment is in use.

In this, our 1942 Commercial and Patriotic Review, the writer wishes to take this opportunity to bring to the attention of our readers the merit of this modern local institution and say that they deserve your support and patronage.

DESTINY OF AMERICA

The followers of the Baha' faith believe that the "Destiny of America" is very great. Their confidence is based not only on the past achievements of America, but on these prophetic words to be found in the Baha' teachings: "America is equipped and empowered to accomplish that which will adorn the pages of history. . . . She will lead all nations spiritually."

How often in the past we have heard people remark, "We are fortunate to be in America away from it all" or "America can live independent of the rest of the world." But, alas, how quickly we found this to be a fallacy, when our rubber supply was cut off as only one instance.

We cannot run away without leaving the planet! We are waking up in a new world, bound together by science and new inventions, and by certain common needs. It is inescapable. We are fortunate as Americans; not because of an ostrich-like inability to be at grips with real problems, but because of a unique opportunity to do something about it. A nation, like an individual, is great, not because of acquisition but because of contribution. Lincoln is great because he contributed toward union and freedom. America is great for what she contributes to the world.

At such times as these we do well to measure our decisions in the light of the undying wisdom of the Prophets of God. Today we need to measure decisions in terms of an Isaiah, who said, "They shall beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks. Nation shall not take up sword against nation; neither shall they learn war any more." Or in terms of a Jesus, who said, "Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called the Children of God." And in this age, the mighty voice of God has again spoken through a human channel saying: "The tabernacle of unity has been raised. Regard ye not one another as strangers. Of one tree are ye all the fruit, and of one bough the leaves. . . . The world is one country, mankind its citizens."

This is the kind of leadership that we ask you to consider for America. She is the last remaining citadel of free thought and action. It can be safely said that a leadership toward peace today is the only leadership that will be remembered tomorrow. Can we assume that leadership? (To be continued next week)

FARM TOPICS

GRAIN SOYBEANS DEplete THE SOIL

But if Plowed Under They Increase Soil Nitrogen.

By PROF. GEORGE D. SCARSETH
(Soil Chemist, Agricultural Experiment Station, Purdue University)

Many farmers do not realize that soybeans harvested for grain are a soil-exhausting rather than a soil-building crop. If soybeans are plowed under or cut for hay, and the manure therefrom is returned to the soil, they do increase the soil nitrogen and thus increase the corn or wheat yields that follow in the rotation. But harvested for commercial purposes such as oils, plastics, etc., they represent a drain on the soil.

A crop of 20 bushels of soybeans harvested for commercial purposes removes 15 pounds of phosphate (equivalent to 75 pounds of 20 per cent super-phosphate) and 20 pounds of potash per acre.

Soybeans are certain to play an increasingly important part in the present war effort. At present very little information has been obtained on how to provide a profitable means of directly fertilizing soybeans at the time of seeding, but experiments now in progress at Purdue university involving plowing under phosphate and potash indicate that effective means are being found.

With a favorable price outlook, a greater acreage will be planted to soybeans this year. Farmers will find it advantageous to fertilize the crop, unless their soils have been adequately treated previously in the rotation. Based on experience at the university, the following suggestions may be of value:

If the soil is acid, lime it adequately this winter. This is important for otherwise the fertilizer will be lost. In many cases about three tons per acre will be effective. Then just before plowing the ground for soybeans, broadcast about 300 pounds of 0-20-20 or 500 pounds of 0-12-12 and plow under. Do not use any fertilizer when planting the beans. The benefits from the lime will last at least 10 years, although it has been found profitable to re-lime in about six years.

Indicative of the importance of plowing down fertilizer for soybeans, was a test at the Purdue experiment station last year. On an unfertilized plot, the soybean yield was 15.7 bushels of grain or 3,570 pounds of hay an acre. When an equivalent of 1,000 pounds of 4-10-25 had been broadcast and disked into the topsoil immediately before seeding, the yield increased only 1.9 bushels. But when this same amount was broadcast and plowed under, the yield per acre was 23.4 bushels of grain or 4,653 pounds of hay. When lime at the rate of three tons per acre was used with the fertilizer and plowed under, the yield was 28.2 bushels of grain or 5,377 pounds of hay per acre.

Feeding Laying Hens

Successful poultry farmers pay nearly as much attention to the way they feed their pullets and laying hens as they do to the kind of feeds they provide. For one thing, abrupt changing in the diet causes the birds to go "off feed" and results in lower egg production and slower growth as will the use of stale feed. If a change in diet must be made it should be made gradually and extend over a period of a week or ten days.

One practice followed by many of the better poultrymen is to provide only a little more feed each day than the birds can clean up. The left-overs, if clean and dry, can be mixed thoroughly with the fresh feed in the hoppers.

In this way there will be no accumulation of stale feed at the bottom of the hoppers, reducing likelihood of mold.

Some Mighty Trees

The tree with the largest circumference is the sequoia, 101 feet, 6 inches, in California, and the tree given the widest spread (168 feet) is a liveoak at Hahnville, La. The wide-spreading liveoak on the Llando plantation in Waller county seems to be unrecorded on the banks of the Potomac. A California redwood with an altitude of 364 feet is given the palm for the greatest height. The world's record for girth is given to a cypress in Mexico.

Probably the largest, oldest, slowest and fastest growing tree now in Texas, is the cypress. Its wood also has had more home and industrial use than any tree.

Less Spuds, More Eggs

People eat about the same total quantity of food now as they did 30 years ago, but the composition of the dietary has changed. Consumption of wheat and other cereals, potatoes and apples, beef, veal, and tea has declined. But consumption of vegetables (other than potatoes), citrus fruits, sugar, poultry, eggs, milk, manufactured dairy products (especially ice cream), edible fats and oils (other than lard and butter) and cocoa increased.

Father of Four Sons Enlists in Air Corps

William E. Schroeder, father of four small sons, has enlisted in the U. S. Army Air corps. Commissioned as a first lieutenant, he reported today at Air Corps headquarters in Miami, Fla.

Lt. Schroeder was in Antioch the first of the week winding up his business affairs before leaving for Miami. He was formerly a member of the Officers Reserve Corps serving with the 317th Cavalry. His enlistment period expired in 1936.

In private life during the past several years Lt. Schroeder has been a partner in the firm of C. K. Anderson & Company, and he was secretary-treasurer of eleven building corporations which were managed by the company, and he is also a director of the First National Bank of Antioch and of Pickard, Inc., of Antioch.

Schroeder's ancestors felt the sting of oppression in Germany. His grandparents left that country in 1848 and came to America, first settling in St. Louis, and later came to Blue Island, Ill. Lt. Schroeder's father, Dr. W. E. Schroeder, then came to Chicago and for 26 years was chief surgeon at Wesley Memorial hospital. He died six years ago.

Although Lt. Schroeder could have been deferred for a long time, he told the News he felt that he could make a contribution toward the defense of his country by enlisting now. He is married and has four small sons: William, 9; Charles, 6½; John, 5½; and James, 2½ years old.

Schroeder's enlistment puts C. K. Anderson back into active business as head of the firm which bears his name, and he will be assisted by former employees who also have not been active in the business for several years.

TOM MILLER TAKES VERBAL SLAP AT JAPS

Deprived of taking sterner action against the Japs because of a change in his classification, Tom Miller, who was a contributor to this column last week in what he thought was his parting message before entering service, this week takes a swat at the Japs in the following poem:

LET'S LICK THOSE TRAMPS
We had an A. E. F. before
We had one now again,
They're leaving here,
Those near and far,
They will be back — but when?

It's up to us to answer that
To see to their return,
So let's get set
And not forget,
There's much to do and learn.

We're doing all we can for them
Red Cross and U. S. O.,
We're with the lads—
Our sons and dads,
No matter where they go.

But all of that is not enough—
They must have tanks and guns,
And shot and shell
To give 'em Hell,
And lick those Japs and Huns.

Now we can't all be at the front,
But we CAN do our part,
Buy BONDS and STAMPS
To lick those tramps,
And show what's in our heart.

—T. J. M.
When Miller reported for induction last week he was placed in another classification and now must wait until he is called later. Meanwhile he adds another poetic gem to the cause of victory—in perfect meter, as usual.

Bill Walker a Graduate Air Corps Tech. School

Pvt. William M. Walker, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Walker, Jr., of Grand avenue, Lake Villa, Ill., was graduated May 19, from the world's largest Air Corps Technical School, Sheppard Field, where he has attended classes for the past five months. He was attached to the 314th Technical School Squadron there. Now qualified as one of the eight specialists necessary to keep one plane in the air, he is eligible for assignment to any unit maintained by the Air Corps.

Lieut. L. John Zimmerman, former Antioch dentist, left Friday for New Orleans, La., for army service in the dental corps. Dr. Zimmerman has been a member of the Reserve Officers corps for several years and lately was stationed with a CCC unit in Wisconsin.

Intruder Seized Asleep In Apartment Bath

SAN FRANCISCO.—Emil Olin's insistence on catching up on his sleep at a Mission street apartment house where he was not a tenant landed him in the county jail today.

Miss Evelyn Schwartz, manager of the apartment house, said that for several months she had been finding him sleeping "on front steps, back steps, hallways, the attic, the basement, out-of-way corners." The climax came when a tenant found Olin asleep in the bathtub of her apartment.

Olin's explanation was his former wife used to live at the apartment house and when he became lonesome for her he went there to sleep.

Gives His German Medals To a Scrap Metal Fund

ALTON, ILL.—Medals he received for heroism and bravery as a German soldier in the first World war will be made into anti-Axis bullets for this war, is the hope of Karl Kuhn, Alton plasterer. Although a naturalized citizen of the United States for many years, Kuhn had treasured the medals until war was declared.

"The Germany I knew is dead," Kuhn explained as he gave the distinguished service medal and the Iron Cross to a scrap metal fund. "These medals are badges of honor I can no longer wear with honor."

Eiffel Tower May Be Put On Scrap Heap by Petain

BERLIN.—The 984-foot Eiffel tower in Paris, known to millions since it was built 52 years ago, may be scrapped by a national metal collection committee working under Marshal Henri Petain, a Vichy dispatch said recently.

The committee is charged with destroying "certain edifices presenting no artistic or historic interest." Novelist Henry Bordeaux, French Academy member, was quoted as saying the tower was "an insult to aesthetic taste."

Sleep-Walker Is Saved From Fall by Mother

PHILADELPHIA.—John Tobin, 40 years old, sleep-walked right through a second-story bedroom here, but—His 75-year-old mother, who had heard him moving about, dashed into the room just as he tumbled through the pane, grabbed him by a leg and held on until her screams brought aid.

He's recovering in a hospital. Possibly he's making plans to prevent any further night walking tours.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for May 31

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

FRIDAY: THE DAY OF SUFFERING

LESSON TEXT—Mark 14:32-34, 44-46; 15:1-5.
GOLDEN TEXT—Not my will, but thine, be done.—Luke 22:42.

Suffering such as no man ever faced came upon our Lord in the night between Thursday and Friday as He prayed in Gethsemane. Hatred and condemnation were poured upon Him as He went through the mockery of false trials on Friday.

The important events of last week's lesson had taken place, the precious words of comfort and assurance had been spoken, and now as midnight brings the darkness of night to its deepest hue, the Son of Man goes alone into the depth of the garden where we see Him.

I. Sorrowful unto Death (14:32-34).

This Scripture portion uses many words to convey the depth of His soul's agony, as though it were impossible to express it in the faulty medium of speech. So it is, for our Lord here experienced something far more serious than a dread of physical death. He was not a coward. He was not afraid to die, but now His soul was about to have put upon its spotless sinlessness the stain and dishonor of the world's sins.

As Krummacker says: "Something approached Him which threatened to rend His nerves and the sight of it to freeze the blood in His veins." Little wonder that He was "sorrowful even unto death" (v. 34). It should break our hearts to see His loving heart break!

Since this was the road the Master trod, should not His servants tread it still? Service for Christ may call for passing through deep and chilling waters, but never as deep or as cold as those of Gethsemane.

Jesus took with Him into the garden the three who were closest to Him in the circle of disciples. He counted on their fellowship and sympathy in His hour of anguish. Merely to have them near Him, to know that they were there to watch and pray even though they could not share His holy burden, was to be a comfort to Him.

How ignominiously they failed. The spirit was willing (v. 38), but the flesh took the upper hand, and they slept! He was alone with His Father when He prayed that if it were possible the hour might pass from Him, but in true and beautiful submission said, "Not what I will, but what thou wilt."

II. Betrayed With a Kiss (14:44-46).

To betray the one who had done nothing but good, who had loved him and served him even in the washing of his feet, this would have been far more than one could have expected of even the sin-blackened heart of a Judas. But he filled the measure of his ignominy to overflowing by betraying his Lord with the sign of affection—a kiss.

We know that we may not stand on the same ground as our Lord even here, for, whereas He had done nothing to merit betrayal, we at our best are not able to stand forth without fault. Nevertheless, great is the hurt when we face the betrayals of life. It may be one whom we have befriended, who has been the object of our loving thought and care, and who in the hour when he thinks to gain himself some advantage or avenge some fancied wrong strikes us in the back, even as he smilingly professes to be a friend. Shall we be embittered in soul and give like for like? God forbid! Let us rather say as Jesus did to Judas, "Friend, wherefore art thou come?" (Matt. 26:50).

III. Condemned by Hatred and Cowardice (15:1-5).

We have only a partial picture of the betrayal of Jesus in our lesson, but it is typical of all that took place, for it reveals the hatred-inspired false witness of the Jews, which, combined with the cowardice of Pilate, resulted in His being condemned to death.

Pilate was convinced of His innocence, but because of the pressure by Jewish leaders he was in a difficult position. He was afraid to follow his convictions, feeling that it was more expedient to yield to the will of the populace. So he lost his great opportunity to write his name large among the heroes of history.

Many there are who follow in Pilate's steps. They know what they ought to do with Jesus, but fearing the comments of friends or the possible loss of earthly advantage, they let Him be crucified afresh by their unbelief.

The Jewish leaders and those whom they had misled hated Jesus with a malicious hatred which made them relentless in their determination to destroy Him. Now they had their quarry at bay and they were determined to close in for "the kill."

They have their present day counterpart in those who have so long rejected Christ that they have become embittered against Him.

About the appliances we advertise nowadays

The appliances we are now advertising are limited to those we have on hand, or those that are made available without interference with war production.

They all have been selected because their normal operation in the home comes at a time of day when our electrical facilities are more than adequate to meet present power requirements for both war production and civilian use.

Furthermore, we believe that their use in most cases will conserve energy and tend to release home labor for helpful wartime activities.

Now more than ever—

Your home needs the good cheer and spring freshness of MODERN LAMPS

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

RAF Reich Blitz Forecast of Invasion; Hoover Urges Greater Power for FDR; Soviets Push Ahead on Kharkov Front; U. S. Outlines Pay Deduction Tax Plan

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

The thanks of a grateful nation and the Congressional Medal of Honor pinned on his breast by President Roosevelt were the rewards received by Brig. Gen. James Doolittle for his valor in leading the bombing raid on the mainland of Japan, including Tokyo, a few weeks ago. Above, left to right, are Lieut. Gen. H. H. Arnold, chief of air forces, Mrs. Doolittle and President Roosevelt congratulating America's newest hero, General Doolittle.

DOOLITTLE: Secrets Well Kept

Three questions remained unanswered when President Roosevelt pinned the Congressional Medal of Honor on the breast of Brigadier General Doolittle in an unheralded White House ceremony commemorating the recent history-making American bombers' raid on the Japanese mainland.

Where did daredevil Jimmy Doolittle's squadron take off from? Where did the Yank fliers land after they bombed Tokyo and sowed a whirlwind of fire, death and destruction in their wake? By what route did Doolittle reach Washington?

While the mystery remained a well-kept secret, Doolittle, who had won international renown as a peacetime speed flier before his latest exploit made him America's No. 1 hero, revealed some significant facts.

The Yanks outflow and outfought Japanese planes and retired without losing a single plane. They "hedge-hopped" over Tokyo low enough to see a ball game in progress. Yankee bombers played havoc with vital Japanese industrial areas 40 miles long and 5 to 20 miles wide. They scored direct hits on a battleship or cruiser under construction near Tokyo and scattered incendiary bombs over airplane factories in Nagoya.

In extending Doolittle the nation's thanks, President Roosevelt announced the award of 79 Distinguished Service Crosses for the 79 volunteers—pilots, machine gunners, bombardiers and radiomen—who participated in the raid.

Speaking over the radio following his decoration, General Doolittle declared that the April raid over Tokyo was only the beginning of many more.

HOOVER URGES: More Power for FDR

Former President Herbert Hoover urged that President Roosevelt be given additional "dictatorial economic powers" as a means of winning the total war.

"There must be no hesitation in giving them to President Roosevelt and upholding him in them," Mr. Hoover said in an address before the 26th assembly of the National Industrial Conference board.

Economic dictatorship, however, must not encroach on civil liberties, he declared. "From a philosophical viewpoint," he said he would like to see the "sixth columnists given a little more liberty."

"Criticism of the conduct of the war is necessary if we are to win the war," he added. "We want the war conducted right... Democracy can correct mistakes only through public exposure and opposition to them."

Mr. Hoover did not define specifically the new dictatorial powers he advocated for President Roosevelt. He said, however, "We must start our thinking with a cold, hard fact: that the economic measures to win total war are just plain Fascist economics."

STEEL WORKERS: To Be 'Missionaries'

As his conflict with John L. Lewis for control of millions of American workers tightened, Philip Murray, president of the CIO, urged delegates who attended the Steel Workers' Organizing committee convention at Cleveland, Ohio, to become "missionaries of national unity."

"I do not want internal strife in this union nor in the CIO," Murray said. "Men's minds must rise above internal bickering when the nation is embroiled in a world war."

INVASION PRELUDE: RAF Blitzes Reich

While Royal Air force bombers blasted war factories and chemical plants in Germany and blitzed Nazi submarine bases in France and enemy airdromes in Holland, the Churchill government announced that the RAF's heavy air offensive was a prelude to an ultimate invasion of continental Europe.

Sir Stafford Cripps, lord privy seal and government spokesman in commons said:

"These bombings are, in our view, of material assistance to Russian resistance and the best way in which we can give assistance until such time as we are able to make a carefully planned attack on the continent of Europe, which we intend to do."

The accelerated tempo of Britain's air offensive was seen in the performance of one detachment of bombers which unloaded 40,000 fire bombs over the city of Mannheim in southwest Germany, second largest inland port of Germany and the site of a number of important chemical, armament and engineering factories.

NEW TAX PLAN: Collect at Source

To help Americans pay heavy income taxes that would affect millions of workers in the small-income group for the first time and to combat inflation, the treasury department outlined to the House ways and means committee a "collection-at-source" program.

Under the new plan, employers would withhold on behalf of the government part of the pay of single workers making more than $11 a week and childless married persons making more than $26. The amount deducted would be used as a credit against income taxes.

Increased individual income surtaxes ranging from 12 per cent on the first $2,000 to 80 per cent on taxable earnings exceeding $200,000 yearly were written into the pending war revenue bill.

The ways and means committee's plan did not incorporate President Roosevelt's suggestion that no American's income should exceed $25,000 a year after payment of all taxes.

REDS VS. NAZIS: Soviets Still Ahead

Stubborn battles on which the decision of World War II appeared to hinge still persisted on the Kharkov and Kerch fronts.

On the Kharkov front the Russian armies under Marshal Timoshenko continued their advances in the face of stiffened German resistance and sharp counterattacks. On the Kerch front, the Russians denied Nazi claims of a clean sweep of the gateway of the precious Caucasus oil fields.

That the Red army was keeping alive its offensive in the Kharkov sector at a swiftly rising cost to the Nazis in men, heavy weapons and supplies was indicated by the latest war bulletins.

"On one sector near Kharkov," said a report, "our troops annihilated 1,650 German officers and men and destroyed 27 tanks, an ammunition dump and a gasoline dump. Booty captured included 37 guns, 57 mortars, 10,000 shells, 40,000 rounds of ammunition, three wireless stations and other material."

In commenting on the situation on the Kerch peninsula in the Crimea, a communique said Russian forces were barring the way to the Caucasus in a way that resembled the long American defense of the Bataan peninsula in the Philippines.

NAZI FOOD RATIONS: To Be Smaller

MARSHAL GOERING
"It's a hard war."

Following stories of conditions in Axis countries by diplomats and newspaper men released from internment in Germany and Italy came an announcement by Reich Marshal Herman Goering, war time Nazi economic commissioner, that "a temporary reduction in the food rations" of Germany would be necessary because of an unfavorable crop outlook.

Addressing 137 war workers assembled at the chancellery in Berlin to be awarded service crosses for the first time in history, Goering said:

"Three extremely hard winters are behind us. The elements have not been kind to us. Last year's harvest was bad. Now, however much we enjoy the warm sun, we are longing for rain to bring what the farmer needs."

Goering termed the present war "the hardest Germany has had to fight."

"The winter campaign has been terrible. The Fuehrer suffered deeply for his troops, but he knew he must not yield. There was no question of giving up our front positions because behind us there was only a heap of ruins."

EARLIER VICTORY?: Maybe, Says Hull

Secretary of State Cordell Hull's cautious indication that increase of United Nations striking power might bring victory sooner than was formerly expected, brought comfort to many an American family and generated new optimism over the war effort in official Washington.

Mr. Hull had been asked at a press conference whether developments in recent weeks on the home and foreign fronts encouraged him to believe in an early victory. In reply he pointed out that the powers and facilities of the United States have been developing on a more and more massive scale, not only for offensive-defensive operations, but for outright offensive war.

Making no effort to disguise the fact that he was increasingly impressed by America's growing power, the white-haired secretary suggested it was only natural that calculations as to the duration of the war should be made in the light of this fact.

Observers pointed out that a number of factors re-enforced Secretary Hull's views. Among these were the steady rise in armed personnel, unprecedented increases in production from factory production lines, growing air and naval strength and the uninterrupted flow of men and materials abroad.

GAS RATIONING: Looms for All U. S.

Restriction of gasoline consumption by the 20,000,000 car owners outside the East and the Pacific Northwest to a point where pleasure driving would be almost completely banned before the end of the summer was predicted as a result of conferences between Defense Transportation Director Joseph B. Eastman and Price Administrator Leon Henderson.

New emphasis to the seriousness of the nation's rubber shortage was lent by Mr. Eastman's disclosure that the United States may not have a sufficient supply of synthetic rubber "in short of three years and perhaps not then."

Disclosure of impending steps toward universal gas limitation followed an indication by President Roosevelt that rationing might be extended to other parts of the country outside the East and the Pacific Northwest where it is already operative.

MISCELLANY:

Australia: Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who is an engineer himself, and Brig. Gen. Hugh Casey, his chief engineer in the Philippines, were made honorary members of the Australian Institute of Engineers.

New York: Pan-American clipper service across the Atlantic entered its fourth year. Behind it was a record of carrying 18,647 passengers.

Really NEED a New Car? Liberalized rules may let you get one

Who is Eligible to Buy a New Car?

There are seven major classifications for persons eligible to buy new cars under basic rationing rules.

These include persons engaged in the production of war materials or in the prosecution of the war directly or indirectly; physicians, nurses, clergymen, veterinarians; car-owners engaged in public service, such as fire departments, public health, highway maintenance, etc.; owners of taxicabs and other means of transportation; farmers; newspaper wholesalers and traveling salesmen in certain fields.

Your Buick dealer will be very glad to help you determine whether you come under the rules of eligibility. He also will be glad to help you fill the proper applications.

Don't guess about your eligibility—see your Buick dealer now and make sure.

If your work is connected directly or indirectly with the prosecution of the war, you may be eligible to buy a new car—right now.

Under newly liberalized rationing rules it is easier than most people think to replace cars now in use with brand-new, long-lived, gas-thrifty 1942 Buicks.

Maybe you can wash out worries about tire-life by starting afresh with a complete new set—tires that will last longer, if they're on a Buick, because new Broadrim wheels both ease the ride and lengthen tire-life.

Remember, the 1942 models your Buick dealer now has ready for immediate delivery were built to serve you through the duration and beyond.

They are wartime tough, durable beauties built to last, built to go a long, long way with a minimum of upkeep.

So if you're eligible, you may be money ahead getting a new Buick now rather than trying to make an old car "do."

Why not drop in, talk it over and see if the new liberalized rules do not entitle you to a new automobile now?

If you're eligible for a new car—
Better Buy Buick!

Democrats Protest

increase for the county employees' retirement fund is to be held on June 1. This plan to submit the referendum on June 1, we warn its sponsors, will be illegal even if the county payrollers bring enough people to the polls to obtain passage of the referendum.

The state law requires that the referendum be held at the next general or special election after the referendum petition is filed in the county clerk's office. On April 14, the day of the primary, a special election was held in Lake, Boone, Winnebago, and McHenry counties to fill the Circuit Court vacancy caused by the death of the late Judge Thomas E. Gill.

Thousands of voters went to the polls on that day to vote for candidates in the special election and in the primary. Why wasn't the county payrollers' pension proposal submitted at that time?

The proposal on the ballot will read: "Shall the County of Lake, Illinois, be included within the provisions of an Act, as amended, creating the 'Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund,' approved by the Sixty-first General Assembly of the State, now in force and effect."

Will Jolt Taxpayers
Both the county government and the courthouse employees are required to make payments into this fund, but it further provides that the county shall pay into the fund a sufficient amount to make up the back payments for those who have been employed over a period of years. It was the duty of the advocates of this measure to give it full publicity so the voters would have had an opportunity to weigh its merits and fully voice their objections.

There will be a light vote at the judicial election because Supreme Court Justice Francis S. Wilson is unopposed. But, even if the county payroll machine succeeds in steamrolling this measure to victory on Monday, we will go into court to defeat it. We challenge the Republican courthouse machine to submit this measure to all of the voters next November at the general election.

By order of the Executive Committee
L. J. SCHEUER, Secretary.

CATTLE RAISERS FACE PROBLEM

Danger Ahead if Beef Cattle Increase Continues.

By R. J. McKENNA
(Chairman, Montana USDA Defense Board)

Dangers that face the livestock industry if cattle numbers continue to increase past a balance with normal feed supplies were pointed out by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard in a recent letter.

There is danger ahead for beef cattle producers if herds continue to increase, Wickard stated. This, together with the fact that abundant supplies of food are needed for national defense, indicates that increased marketings of beef cattle and calves in 1942 will benefit not only cattlemen but the National Defense program as well.

Secretary Wickard's statement pointed out to stockmen several things they could do to make their position more secure. He advised increased marketing of cows and heifers which, because of the good demand and price, would mean more money to pay off indebtedness and get set for what may come in the future. This present demand also offers stockmen an opportunity to improve their breeding herds by culling out and selling undesirable animals at a good price.

Keep livestock numbers in balance with normal feed supplies, he urged. Range conditions and feed supplies in the West have been unusually good this year. Drought can cause a lot of loss if there is no feed reserve available.

In 1934, just before the disastrous drought, there were 74,000,000 head of cattle in the United States and in another year, if the present rate of increase continues, there will be at least that many again.

Vitamins Important In Animal Breeding

The success with which farmers raise their pig, lamb, and calf crops to meet expanding national food needs may depend in a large part on the kind of rations they supply their breeding stock, says Earl H. Hostetter, professor of animal husbandry at North Carolina State college.

Rations well fortified with vitamins and minerals are required for normal reproduction, and vitamins A, E and C have received most attention in relation to reproduction.

Carotene, which is present in well-cured green hay, fresh green pasture, grass, well-made corn, grass and legume silage, and yellow varieties of carrots, squash, and sweet potatoes, is the principal source of vitamin A, highly essential in the reproduction of all farm animals.

However, Hostetter pointed out, carotene is rapidly destroyed in feeds, especially under conditions of poor storage, so precautions must be taken to provide adequate amounts particularly to pregnant animals.

As early as in 1922, the vitamin E factor was demonstrated to be necessary for reproduction of laboratory animals such as the rat, but the need for it in the diet of farm animals other than poultry is still questionable. Most good rations contain adequate amounts of this vitamin, and only in unusual cases is it likely that animals may be sterile because E is lacking.

Such feeds as wheat bran, shorts, linseed meal, hominy feed, white and yellow corn, cottonseed meal, and kafir are good sources of vitamin E, as are most of the common hay and pasture crops.

Adding common baking soda to water given to feeder cattle immediately after they are received may avert losses from shipping fever. If fever develops, a veterinarian should be called immediately rather than waiting.

Help in meeting the shortage of farm labor, and preparing for farm adjustments needed in the war emergency have been among the jobs of county farm bureaus this year. Demand for more farm products means still greater activity.

Farm Topics

LEGUMES, GRASSES VERY IMPORTANT

By P. E. JOHNSTON
(Professor of Agricultural Economics, University of Ill. Agricultural College.)

Each farm should now produce as much as possible of the crops for which it is adapted, but should also grow enough legumes and grasses to maintain a high level of yields.

We need to adjust as never before our cropping plans to variations in soil type, slope and susceptibility to erosion. It is important that the increased acreages of depleting crops be grown in areas where yields are high and where they can be produced with a minimum of erosion.

In farming, we are not interested in producing the maximum in 1942 but in hitting a level which can be maintained for a five- to ten-year period if necessary.

Provided efficient land use and feed production are maintained the limiting factors of livestock production will be labor and equipment, but each farmer will be responsible for obtaining the maximum livestock output for each bushel of corn, 100 pounds of supplement and each ton of hay.

Livestock Housing.
The high cost and scarcity of building materials will preclude any rapid expansion in housing facilities for livestock or any material expansion in livestock equipment. Efficiency in the use of available buildings and equipment is therefore important.

Of even more importance will be the necessity to obtain the maximum production of each farm work unit, as the supply is being reduced by the transfer of farm workers to industry and the army. The shortage of labor emphasizes again the urgency of increasing the efficiency of livestock production, as livestock and livestock products are so essential for domestic consumption.

Farm Workers' Exemption
Efforts made by agricultural organizations to find what authority local draft boards have to exempt farm workers have resulted in statements by officials in charge of the draft that local boards can exempt necessary agricultural workers.

Farm help needed to produce milk and dairy products, eggs and egg products, poultry meat products, and hogs and lamb products are considered as engaged in the production of commodities of the greatest importance. Producers of soybeans, sugar beets, commercial vegetables, cattle and calves, and sheep and lambs are considered to be doing work of distinct importance.

This information indicates, it is believed, that local draft boards have been given considerable latitude in making decisions regarding exemptions of farm help. It seems apparent that a man needed to produce foods listed as being of the greatest importance would be considered more eligible for deferment than a man producing foods designated of distinct importance.

It also appears obvious that men engaged in producing anything in either of the two preceding lists can be given preferment over men producing wheat, cotton, potatoes, and many other crops. Wheat and potatoes are good foods but the problem of the nation right now is to create an army and at the same time to obtain materials most needed in the immediate future.

Before exemptions can be granted for farm work or for any industrial or business defense service, the local board must be given proof that the man is actually engaged in the line of work for which exemptions are allowed.

Prize Bulls Given Free

The American Jersey Cattle club has announced the gift of 1,000 registered Jersey bull calves to the farmers of America—a war-time gift to the nation. These "Victory Calves," all born in 1942, are to be given as outright gifts by Jersey breeders to 1,000 lucky dairy farmers. Many of the bull calves to be given away are sons, grandsons, and great-grandsons of champion bulls and champion cows that have made history in the show ring and in official production tests.

Feeder Cattle Suggestions

(1) Purchase feeders to fit the feed, labor and equipment available on the farm (choice 400-pound steer calves use 55-60 bushels of corn and three-fourths ton of hay and common 900-pound steers use 8 to 10 bushels of corn and 1 1/2 tons of hay), know length of the feeding period and plan ahead for cattle to use pasture; (2) market the cattle in the period of normal price peaks and (3) feed a balanced ration for the type of cattle used.

Eyes for Stuffed Animals

Offhand no one would ever think that there would be much of a present, or future, in making glass eyes for stuffed birds and beasts. But there is, and Miss Billie Lampie earns a very good living making phony eyes for extinct owls, foxes, fish, deer and many more members of the animal kingdom than you could shoot a gun or shake a fishing rod at. It's not an easy job either, because these glass eyes have to be just right in shape, size and color. Otherwise they look false.

Not so Deserted

The North African desert isn't deserted in the sense of the Sahara—miles and miles of sand and dunes. It is more like the rugged Arizona-New Mexico variety with gravel, sharp escarpments several hundred feet high, deep gulleys gouged by whistling winds and torrential rains. Air power there will be more decisive than any other one factor.

Ember Days

In the United States the Roman Catholic and Protestant Episcopal churches observe Ember days on the Wednesday, Friday and Saturday following December 13, the first Sunday in Lent, the Feast of Pentecost and September 14. The Ember days are set aside as days of fast, abstinence and prayer.
